

Nominee

Hope VanBrocklin, North Wind Group, Las Cruces/Alamogordo

Statement of Qualifications & Interest

Hope VanBrocklin has been a strong professional in the solid waste and recycling field since 2017 and is only 27 years old. Originating from New York, she was a leader of three separate counties as their Recycling Coordinator. She continued this path for two years while also being a key member of maintaining their state-of-the-art landfill. Her background reflects the green, proactive policies of New York and tries to bring it to the Southern state of New Mexico.

From 2019 to 2022, Hope was the Environmental Specialist at the City of Sunland Park, New Mexico. She single-handedly managed their rudimentary solid waste and recycling program, while also facilitating all other environmental issues the City faced. From here, Hope gained a solid background in the state of New Mexico's recycling and solid waste facets.

In February 2022, Hope started the position as an Environmental Scientist for the company North Wind Group. This job was contracted through the United States Army and located on White Sands Missile Range, New Mexico. This intensive occupation focuses on solid waste and recycling through the proper mitigation of the hazardous waste produced on the Installation. With this, she delves into the specifics of adhering to both state and federal law while attempting to be as environmentally conscious as possible.

Overall, Hope would be an excellent candidate for serving on the New Mexico Recycling Coalition board. Her programmatic knowledge of the whole solid waste and recycling field would only serve as an asset to this group.
